All these matters rest in the sound discretion of the court in which the suit is filed. * * *" We think the rule applicable to the facts of the instant case is well stated in Richter v. Lawrence, 39 N.D. 38, 166 N.W. 694, 696, where it is said: "The alleged fraudulent concealment is that when the plaintiffs discovered that they were injured by defective harness which the defendant had sold to them, defendant's agents said that it was not their fault and had just about the only remedy; that after the hay was brought to the barn they found that they had been deceived, and they and their neighbors and farm manager were very much surprised, and that, under the circumstances, they had just about the only remedy, and that the matter was considered closed. The law is well settled that a party may not invoke the doctrine of fraudulent concealment to extend the time of limitations. To use it as a shield for his fraud and wilfully to deceive is to be condemned. * * *" (Emphasis supplied.) In view of the fact that it is admitted in the pleadings, the plaintiff's evidence, and his testimony that he discovered the falsity of the representations at the time they were made, it is apparent that under the foregoing decisions, he cannot now avail himself of the provisions of Sec. 28-01-44, N.D.C.C., to plead the statute of limitations as a defense. The judgment is affirmed. TEIGEN and BURKE, JJ., concur. ERICKSTAD, C. J., concurs in the result.
